

Financial Aid-Non-Thesis Program

The Department of Biological Sciences does not typically provide financial support to non-thesis students except under extreme circumstance.

Other forms of financial aid may be available to some students in the form of fellowships or scholarships. For additional information, contact the Graduate Coordinator or the campus Financial Aid Office.