

SOUTHEAST LOUISIANA HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

19 March 2010

Dear Member:

Please mark the night of Thursday, 29 April 2010 on your calendar for the spring meeting of the Southeast Louisiana Historical Association.

Our evening will begin at our old meeting place in the Hammond Regional Arts Center, the Levy building, (217 East Thomas Street) with spirits and conversation at 6:00 PM. Dinner will be served immediately prior to our 6:30 PM lecture featuring award winning columnist and author of the critically acclaimed book, A Summer of Birds: John James Audubon at Oakley House, Danny Heitman.

At this time, we are encouraging everyone to renew their membership to the Association. Dues for 2010 are $25.00 per person, which entitles you to admission and dinner at the spring lecture as well as to receive the association's scholarly journal, Southeast Louisiana Review and annual newsletter, The Centerpiece. Member spouses may attend the spring meeting at a discounted rate of $10.00. Non-member participation is $15.00 per person. All current and prospective members are encouraged to attend and to bring a guest.

Please use the form below to reserve your place at the spring meeting and to ensure your receipt of the SELHA journal. Make checks payable to "Southeast Louisiana Historical Association." Join us as we continue this important regional historical association. RSVP if you plan on attending by Friday, 23 April 2010.

Sincerely,

Clark Forrest, Ed.D.
